

TYPICAL ENG CLASS

DAVIDSON'S ENG CLASS

CHARACTERISTICS

does math

Normally in English classes, students read books or poems. However, in Mr. Davidson's English class, his students work math problems. He does this because he is a fool. For example, today in class, instead of reading a werewolf story, the class had to work a werewolf algebra problem. The reason for this is simple. Mr. Davidson doesn't know what the hell he is doing, so he tries to cover up his ignorance by assigning something that looks like an English assignment. I'm not convinced he knows the difference. He might not even know how to read.
